Every business man is apt to sing his own praise, and truth compels us to say, we are, perhaps, not far behind them. Yet there are circumstances, in favor of our store, which may convince you, that your own interest demands, that you should give us at least one trial. We have in the first place several lines of

BOOTS AND SHOES

Which stand pre-eminently high in the estimation of those, who have worn them, and for which we are the agents for the manufacturer. These are

REFLECTIONS FOR THE NEW YEAR.

"On the first day of the first month shalt thou set up the tabernacle of the tent of the congregation." Exod. xl. 2.

Snow Balling.

It was fine sport on new year's day for the boys, who introduced Mr. Jones to the secret of snow balling. He at first felt that he could manage this crowd of excited boys, but alas, he was glad to say enough. Fine sport for boys.

New Year.

Again we stand upon the threshold of a new year. How many things come crowding into the mind! One year is gone, another is just beginning. As we look back upon the past how sensibly we are reminded of wasted moments and lost opportunities. How many times have our feet gone astray and our minds and hearts committed errors. The year is gone, and our acts are recorded forever. How gladly would we have that record different, yet we cannot change it now. As we peer into the future, our only hope is that this year to come may be fruitful of good deeds and noble thoughts. May all aim to make the year one of great results. The minister, the physician, the lawyer, the husbandman, the merchant, the laborer and the child have before them a year in which much may be accomplished that will tell on present and future generations. Let every one resolve to so number our days that we may apply our hearts unto wisdom.

A Touching Incident.

A poor little newsboy, while attempting to jump from a city car the other afternoon, fell beneath the car, and was fearfully mangled. As soon as the child could speak he called piteously for his mother, and a messenger was at once sent to bring her to him. When the bereaved woman arrived she hung over the dying boy in an agony of grief! "Mother," whispered he, with a painful effort, "I sold four newspapers and the money is in my pocket." With the hand of death upon his brow, the last thought of the suffering child was for the poor, hard-working mother, whose burdens he was striving to lighten when he lost his life.

We cannot live on probabilities. The faith in which we can live bravely and die in peace must be a certainty, so far as it professes to be a faith at all, or it is nothing.

The mystery of the gospel is distinguished from the lay, consists in changing the order of two words: One says, "Do and live;" the other says, "Live and do."

THE TENDERNESS OF GOD'S CARE.

"And in the wilderness, where thou hast seen how that the Lord thy God bear thee, as a man doth bear his son, in all the way that ye went, until ye came into this place."
Deut. i. 31.

In the Bleak and Chilly Air.

The father is hastening with hurried steps through the snow and wind with his darling child well protected from the cold. In the open door is seen the anxious mother awaiting their return. So the Lord cares for his children. He folds them safely in his arms, and protects them from the bleak and chilly winds of sin, and bears them safely to their eternal home. He is our refuge and strength, a present help in every time of need. Resting in him no harm can befall us, for he is bearing us upon his strong arm to the home of the blest and the mansions of rest.

I've seen old broken bowls planted out with the bonniest flowers and mosses, and I've thought if it had not been for their misfortune they would never have come to such honor and beauty.—Edward Garrett.

Good Night.

Good night—the little lips touch ours,
The little arms enfold us;
And oh, that thus through coming years
They might forever hold us!

Good night! we answer back and smile,
And kiss the drooping eyes;
But in our trembling hearts the while
The wishful queries rise.

Who, in the weary years to come,
When we are hid from sight,
Will clasp these little hands and kiss
These little lips "Good night?"

The World's Population.

The present population of the world, according to the estimates of competent statisticians, is given in the appended table:

Asia.....	850,000,000
Europe.....	325,000,000
Africa.....	210,000,000
North and South America.....	110,000,000
Australia and Polynesia.....	5,000,000

Total.....1,500,000,000

The various religions are indicated by the following statement:

Buddhists.....	450,000,000
Heathen.....	247,000,000
Mohammedans.....	235,000,000
Roman Catholics.....	225,000,000
Protestants.....	140,000,000
Brahmans.....	110,000,000
Eastern churches.....	85,000,000
Jews.....	8,000,000

Total.....1,500,000,000

The prevailing religion in Europe and America is Christianity. The Buddhists are about as numerous as all the Christian sects combined, and their idolatrous worship is professed by the people of China, Siam, Bramah, Japan and Thibet. Mohammedanism prevails in Turkey, Austria, Persia, and in portions of India, Asia-Minor and Egypt.

"The path of the just is as the shining light, that shineth more and more unto the perfect day." Prov iv. 18.

The March Rain.

It is not difficult to imagine how cold a March rain is. It is generally the most disagreeable month in the year, and we quickly hasten away to avoid its chilly blast.

Lent.

The season of Lent brings with it many solemn thoughts. Into this season are crowded all the realities of the last sufferings of the Savior. During this time we meditate upon the last stages of his earthly mission. We listen eagerly to his last words and his most fervent prayer as recorded in the seventeenth chapter of St. John's gospel. We hear him speaking his comforting and parting words, "Let not your heart be troubled," and "I will not leave you comfortless." He unfolds his compassion by leaving the promise "It is expedient for you that I go away; for if I go not away the Comforter will not come unto you; but if I depart, I will send him unto you." During this season we follow the Lamb of God on his way to the sacrificial altar, where, ere long, he would bear our sorrows and endure our stripes. May this season bring us nearer the cross, to behold anew on "Good Friday" the sufferings and death of the Son of God for the sins of mankind. May it touch anew our feelings and sympathies that we may cling with a firm and unwavering faith to the cross of Christ. "God forbid that I should glory, save in the cross of our Lord Jesus Christ, by whom the world is crucified unto me, and I unto the world."

Faithfulness.

Never forsake a friend. When enemies gather around, when sickness falls on the heart, when the world is dark and cheerless, is the time to try true friendship. They who turn from the scene of distress betray their hypocrisy and prove that interest only moves them. If you have a friend that loves you—who has studied your interest and happiness,—be sure to sustain him in adversity. Let him feel that his former kindness is appreciated, and that his love was not thrown away. Real fidelity may be rare; but it exists,—in the heart. They only deny its worth and power who have never loved a friend or tried to make one happy. The good and the kind, the affectionate and the virtuous, see and feel the heavenly principle.

Blessed is he that loveth God, and his friend in God and his enemies for God.

Harsh counsels have no effect; they are like hammers which are always repulsed by the anvil.

THE USE OF THE TONGUE.

"He that will love life, and see good days, let him refrain his tongue from evil, and his lips that they speak no guile." I. Pet. iii. 10.

Easter Morning.

May the glad dawn,
Of Easter morn
Bring holy joy to thee!
May the calm eve
Of Easter leave
A peace divine with thee!

May Easter Day
To thine heart say,
"Christ died and rose for thee!"
May Easter night
On thine heart write,
"O Christ, I live for thee!"

Easter morning is observed in commemoration of the resurrection of the Lord Jesus Christ. He was put to death on the cross, dying amidst darkness and gloom.

As the evening of the preparation day of the Sabbath drew on, his body was taken by loving hands, wrapped in its winding sheet, anointed and laid away in the new tomb of Joseph of Arimathæa.

When the Sabbath was over:

"Mary to the Savior's tomb,
Hastened at the early dawn;
Spice she brought and sweet perfume,
But the Lord she loved had gone.

What had become of him?
Can the words he spoke before his death be true—"After three days I will rise again!" And did he rise? That is the eager question. He was not there, his body is missing. The disciples have not stolen him from the grave. Did he rise?

"Yes! he rose, he rose,
He burst the bars of death
And triumphed o'er the grave!"

And on the resurrection of Jesus from the grave, is based all our hope of eternal life. If he did not rise, then are all who love Jesus miserable indeed. But he did rise; hell could not keep him in the grave; the prince of the powers of the air; the devil and all his angels were vanquished at the grave of Christ.

"Shout the glad tidings, exultingly sing, Jerusalem triumphs, Messiah is King."

The world is no longer an orphan; it need not weep at the grave in sorrow any more; the grave is conquered, and
Jesus is its King.

Men may as well expect to grow stronger by always eating, as wiser by always reading. Too much overcharges nature, and turns more into disease than nourishment. It is thought, which is mental digestion, which makes books serviceable, and gives health and vigor to the mind.

There are no footprints backward.

A Welcome.

Month of May, mild and clear,
Glad the day thou art here!
We have had heaps of snow;
We are glad to see it go.

Sunny hours now unfold
Yellow flowers bright as gold.
In the grass, we shall meet,
As we pass, clover sweet.

Happy birds on the wing,
Flocks and herds, hail the spring.
All day long we may hear
Robin's song far and near.

Girls and boys, shall not we,
In our joys, grateful be?
Yes; we'll raise, from the sod,
Thoughts of praise to our God.

The Ascension.

We are invited to go to Mt. Olivet there to behold the grandest scene that has ever transpired in the history of the world. Here is the Savior in his resurrection body, with the prints of nails in his hands and feet, and with the scars of a thorny crown about his head. Behold, here is he who declared himself victor over death and the grave, who shewed himself alive by many infallible proofs, in company with those whom he loved and cherished as his apostles, on their way to Mt. Olivet. How glad are these hearts which but forty days previous were so heavy and forsaken, and who were as sheep without a shepherd. Here they are united in the strongest bonds. Having reached this sacred mount, and listening to the comforting words of the Savior, while he is yet talking with them he is taken up from them.

Behold the startled disciples as they gaze after him who is riding forth upon the clouds. How sad again, yet how comforted when the messengers in white appear to soothe their hearts and allay their fears with the words, "This same Jesus, which is taken up from you into heaven shall so come in like manner as ye have seen him go into heaven." Yes, he shall come again in divine majesty and glory as judge of the quick and dead.

"Therefore be ye also ready; for in such an hour as ye think not the Son of man cometh."

God is not like a proud benefactor, who is content with doing that which will satisfy his sense of his own glory, but like a mother who puts her arm around her child, and whose heart is sore until she can make her child see the love which is her glory.

He conquers who overcomes himself.

GOD IN NATURE.

The Water-Mill.

Listen to the water-mill, through the livelong day,
How the clicking of its wheel wears the hours away,
Languidly the autumn wind stirs the greenwood leaves;
From the fields the reapers sing, binding up the sheaves;

And a proverb haunts my mind, as a spell is cast—
The mill will never grind with the water that is past.

Autumn winds revive no more leaves that once are shed,
And the sickle cannot reap corn once gathered;
And the rippling stream flows on, tranquil, deep, and still,

Never gliding back again to the water mill.

Truly speaks the proverb old, with a meaning vast—
The mill will never grind with the water that is past.

—D. G. Mitchell.

Pentecost.

With what anxious solicitation the apostles awaited the promise of the Holy Spirit! After the ascension they continued together with one accord in prayer and supplication, faithfully trusting that the great promise of the Savior should be fully realized. This hope was not disappointed. In due season and at an appropriate time the miraculous coming of the Spirit was manifested. It was on the annual feast of Pentecost when devout men, out of every nation, both Jew and Gentile, were assembled at Jerusalem. Here at a time when the glad tidings of this event might be carried to distant lands and be heralded among the avowed enemies of Christ the Comforter, the Holy Ghost appears in cloven tongues like as of fire. On this occasion Peter embraces the opportunity of preaching Christ and him crucified to all people. To get a clear and full idea of the work accomplished, read the second chapter of Acts. Here is verified the promise of the Savior in full measure, and from now on the Spirit leads them into all truth, and reprove the world of sin, of righteousness and of judgment to come.

Be Reformed

Many people belong to our church, but know comparatively little of the history, customs, usages, doctrines and discipline of our church. Let every member be rooted and grounded in the faith, and not be at the mercy of the wild waves of excitement and the boisterous clashing of the furious elements about us. Be true, to your church and stand by the old ship.

Rev. James Owen, when dying said: "My fellowship is with the Father, and with his son Jesus Christ, and he that is not satisfied with that company does not deserve it."

RICHES OF GRACE.

JULY.

Courtesy.

Summer said to the Spring, "What a wonderful thing
It is to bring in so much sweetness and grace—
I am sure that to you my blossoms are due,
And I feel I am taking your place.

"I never can blush, but I think of your flush;
And the eyes of the flowers at evening are wet;
There was something so fair in your innocent air,
That your going we can but regret."

"You beautiful Comer," said Spring to the Summer,
I lived out my life but to brighten your way;
I heard the buds swelling, and could not help telling,
For I knew you would see them some day.

"It was only my duty to bring you the beauty,
And to help one another is lesson for all;
And perhaps you'll be willing, your mission fulfilling,
To leave something to brighten the Fall.

The habit of religious dawdling is one of the worst forms of besetting sin. It stands in the way of every virtue.

July.

In the ancient calendar of the Romans this month was called Quintilis, to denote its numerical position, being, in fact, the fifth month of the old Latin year; whereas now it is the seventh. It was sacred to Jupiter, and consisted of thirty-six days, which Romulus reduced to thirty-one, and Numa Pompilius to thirty; but Julius Cæsar restored the day which Numa had taken away. In Saxon it was called "Heu Monath" or hay month, because the hay-harvest of our Saxon ancestors was held in this month.

History of Dog-Days.

The third day of July commences with what are termed "Dog-days," which continue until the 11th of August. The name was first given in reference to the heliacal rising of the constellation of Canis major, called Sirius, or the Dog-star, which was formerly thought to make the sea boil, dogs to go mad, wine to turn sour; animals generally to languish, and to originate fevers and cholera. The name applied to this period probably took its origin from a festival held at Argas instituted for the purpose of killing dogs during this season.

Popular rascals have their day. Unpopular champions of truth and righteousness have the sober second thought, and the promise of the ages.

The lowest pulpit is higher than the highest throne. I would rather preach a large gospel in a small church than a small gospel in a large church.

THANKFULNESS FOR GOD'S GOODNESS.

"Bless the Lord, O my soul; and all that is within me, bless his holy name. Bless the Lord, O my soul, and forget not all his benefits." Ps. ciii. 1, 2.

"The Lord reigneth: let the earth rejoice; let the multitude of isles be glad thereof." Psalms vii. 1.

The Summer Voyage.

It is a common thing now to sail across the deep blue sea to take a pleasant trip to the foreign lands. There is one voyage all are making across the sea of life forever to abide in the land of the blest and the home of the just. Be well prepared for this voyage to make it safe and pleasant.

August.

August is said to have derived its name from the Roman Emperor, Augustus Cæsar to whom it was dedicated in honor of his being created Consul in this month, and having triumphed three times in Rome, subjected Egypt to the Roman power, and put an end to civil wars. The 24th is St. Bartholomew's day, a festival of the church of England. St. Bartholomew was an apostle, but there is no scriptural account of his labors or death. This day has a terrible celebrity in connection with the massacre of the Protestants at Paris, in 1572 when 14,000 were butchered in a fortnight, besides 90,000 in the provinces.

Meeting of General Synod.

The General Synod of the Reformed Church in the United States will meet in triennial session in the Third Reformed Church of Baltimore, Md., on Wednesday, May, 7, 1884, at 8 o'clock in the evening.

This meeting will be full of interest for the whole church, and due preparations should be made for a full delegation from all the Classes. Rev. J. H. Good, D. D., Tiffin, O., is the President, and Rev. I. H. Reiter, D. D., Miamisburg, O., is the Stated Clerk.

Living Backward.

"Young man," said a merchant to an inexperienced book-keeper, "you post books backward. Always write the amount first,—that is most important,—and then the name and date; so that if anything is missed it will not be the amount, and the books will balance correctly."

It doesn't matter whether you understand posting books or not; the lesson is, "Attend to the most important things first; don't live backward."

You must study hard for an education to enable you to fully enjoy life and success in business. You may take pains to look well, to become accomplished and rich and useful and great; but remember that preparing for life eternal is far more important than all these, and must, if you would not "live backward," be done first—now; so that if anything is missed it will not be heaven. Jesus said, "Seek ye first the kingdom of God."

It is not enough that we swallow truth; we must feed upon it, as insects do on the leaf, till the whole heart be colored by its qualities, and shows its food in every fiber.

Hunting.

The hunting sports of the season generally begin with September. Every one seems to enjoy a season of recreation with the gun and dogs.

Ancient Wonders.

Nineveh was fourteen miles long, eight miles wide, and forty-six miles around, with a wall one hundred feet high and thick enough for three chariots abreast.

Babylon was fifty miles within the walls, which were seventy-five feet thick and one hundred feet high, with one hundred brazen gates.

The temple of Diana, at Ephesus, was four hundred and twenty feet to the support of the roof—it was one hundred years in building.

The largest of the pyramids was four hundred and eighty-one feet in height, and eight hundred and fifth-three feet on the sides. The base covered eleven acres. The stones are about sixty feet in length, and the layers are two hundred and eight. It employed 350,000 men in building.

The labyrinth of Egypt contains three hundred chambers and twelve halls.

Thebes, in Egypt, presents ruins twenty-seven miles around, contained 350,000 citizens and 400,000 slaves.

The temple of Delphos was so rich in donations that it was plundered of $50,000,000, and the Emperor Nero carried away from it two hundred statues.

The walls of Rome were thirteen miles around.

September.

The golden-rod is yellow,
The corn is turning brown,
The trees in apple orchards
With fruit are bending down.

The gentian's bluest fringes
Are curling in the sun;
In dusky pods the milk-weed
Its hidden silk has spun.

The sedges flaunt their harvest
In every meadow nook;
And asters by the brookside
Make asters in the brook.

By all the lovely tokens,
September days are here,
With summer's best of wealth,
And autumn's best of cheer.

Farm Life.

For a quiet, unostentatious, easy, truly contented life, that on the farm is the best. Amid the lowing of cattle and bleating of sheep, and rustling of autumn leaves nothing has a greater charm. Farm life is the occupation which makes men truly independent.

 "And thou shalt teach them diligently unto thy children, and shalt talk of them when thou sittest in thine house, and when thou walkest by the way, and when thou liest down, and when thou risest up." Deut. vi. 7.

Papa's Child.

This picture is a scene of a happy father and devoted child. True love exists, and a tender life is unfolding under the sacred teachings and hallowed influences of a pious father.

Peace, Perfect Peace.

Peace, perfect peace in this dark world of sin!
The blood of Jesus whispers peace within.

Peace, perfect peace, with thronging duties pressed!
To do the will of Jesus, this is rest.

Peace, perfect peace, with sorrow surging round!
On Jesus' bosom nought but calm is found.

Peace, perfect peace, with loved ones far away!
In Jesus' keeping we are safe, and they.

Peace, perfect peace, our future here unknown!
Jesus we know, and he is on the throne.

Peace, perfect peace, death shadowing us and ours!
Jesus has vanquished death and all its powers.

It is enough; earth's struggles soon will cease,
And Jesus call to heaven's perfect peace.

Patient temper is a perfect panacea
for all domestic disturbances.

Seeing the Gospel.

"Have you ever heard the gospel before?" asked a missionary at Ningpo of a respectable Chinaman, whom he had not seen in his mission-room before.

"No," he replied, "but I have seen it. I know a man who used to be the terror of his neighborhood. If you gave him a hard word, he would shout at you and curse you for two days and two nights without ceasing. He was as dangerous as a wild beast, and a bad opium-smoker, but when the religion of Jesus took hold of him, he became wholly changed. He is gentle, moral, not soon angry, and has left off opium. Truly the teaching is good!"

A Norwegian plant-geographer, Prof. Schubeler, called attention a short time ago to the remarkable fact that most plants in high latitudes produce much larger and heavier seeds than in warmer regions nearer the equator—an effect which he ascribes to prolonged influence of sunlight during the long summer days of the high latitudes. In some cases the difference of seed-development is most astonishing. Dwarf beans taken from Christiana to Drontheim—less than four degrees farther north—gained more than sixty per cent. in weight; and thyme from Lyons when planted at Drontheim showed a gain of seventy-one per cent. The grain of northern fields is heavier than when grown in more southern localities; and seed from Norway planted at Breslau decreased greatly in the first year. The leaves also of most plants are larger and more deeply colored in high latitudes, as was first noticed by Grisbach and Martins. The same is true of flowers, and many which are white in southern climates become violet in the far north.

RELIGIOUS COMFORT IN OLD AGE.

"For thou art my hope, O Lord God; thou art my trust from my youth. O God thou hast taught me from my youth: and hitherto have I declared thy wondrous works. Now also when I am old and gray-headed, O God, forsake me not: until I have shewed thy strength unto this generation, and thy power to every one that is to come." Ps. lxxi.

The Christmas Chimes.

A Christmas peal, a joyous peal, a clashing peal!
 Open the window wide, that it may reel
 Into the hall, amid the festive throng,
 Laughing with the merry voices there,
 Gladdening every sound of mirth and song,
 Then rushing out upon the frosty air,
 Repeating to the echoes far and wide
 The message of good-will, for Christmas tide.

A distant peal, a softened peal, a chastened peal!
 Open the window wide, that it may steal
 To the sick-chamber, with its hymns of glory:
 Breathing softly in a wordless prayer,
 Whispering wistfully the old, old story;
 Then floating out upon the frosty air
 Answering to the echoes far and wide
 The Savior's message, Peace for Christmas-tide.

A merry peal, a dancing peal, a clashing peal!
 Open the windows wide, that we may feel
 It fly from heaven to earth, from earth to heaven,
 Strengthening every feeble word of prayer
 With its glad song, "To us a Son is given."
 Then, swelling out upon the frosty air,
 Proclaim the glorious tidings far and wide,
 Peace and good-will through every Christmas-tide.

A midnight peal, a hallowed peal, a dying peal!
 Close down the windows now, that we may kneel
 'Mid cheerful faces in the ruddy light,
 Or in the chamber, dark with want and care.
 It leaves a blessing with us all to-night,
 Then dies without, upon the frosty air,
 The grand old message, shedding far and wide,
 A deathless glory on the Christmas-tide.

A Foot Lamp.

One of the most interesting things in the Holy Land is the fact that one meets everywhere in daily life the things that illustrate the word of the Lord. The streets of Jerusalem are very narrow, and no one is allowed to go out at night without a light. Throw open your lattice in the evening and look out, and you will see what seem to be little stars twinkling on the pavement. You will hear the clatter of sandals, as the late traveler rattles along. As the party approaches, you will see that he has a little lamp fastened to his foot, to make his step a safe one. In an instant the voice comes to your memory, written in that same city three thousand years ago, "Thy Word is a lamp to my feet, and a light to my path."

The Endowment of Churches.

By endowment is meant "That which is bestowed or settled on a person or institution, property, fund, or revenue permanently invested for the benefit of a church, college, hospital, &c." It is not a question whether it is right or wrong to bestow endowments on our colleges and seminaries or other religious institutions. It is regarded as eminently right and proper—indeed necessary—for if they were not thus provided for, most, if not all, our colleges and charitable institutions would be compelled to close their doors.

This is true to a very great extent with the church. It receives no support from the state or by any system of taxation, but depends entirely upon the gifts of the charitable—as they may see fit to give—be it little or much, it is too often the little that is given.

To give to the cause of Christ is right; all true Christians believe this, and so use their means as long as they live, but make no provisions by which the church shall be supported after their death. This may and does seem to be wrong. The church is to go forward in its work. Dear Christian, what are you doing to promote the interests of the church after you are no more? You believe it is right to provide for your children by leaving them an inheritance. You seem to think that is absolutely necessary. It may be, but is not the church from which you have derived every blessing, worthy of a place as an heir in the distribution of your wealth? Your children may and often do squander all that is given them. The church will never do that. The heirs may be injured (and often are) by the inheritance bestowed upon them. The church will not be injured, but will continue to bless the world through all time. Heirs too often refuse to contribute to the church, however liberal their fathers may have been, and become worldly. The church is thus crippled and often fails just because Christians, while living, failed to make provisions for the continuance of their support after their death. There are doubtless some in heaven to-day who, if they could return, would change their wills and make the church an heir at least equal with those before remembered. Their testimony would be strongly in favor of continuing a part of their inheritance in the service of Christ and his church. Every true Christian wants his possessions to work for God and humanity.

By giving to the Lord in this way can we carry out our desires. *Have a care for the future welfare of your church, dear Christian brother, in your dying hour. You were liberal while you lived; do not stop your well doing when you die. Your example is bad. Do with what the Lord has given you as you will wish you had done when you stand at the judgment seat.

Dear Christian, remember the cause of Christ in your will. Do not forget the congregation of which you are a member. It will need your support after you are dead as well as it does now. Generations will rise up and call you blessed. Your good works will follow you.

H. M. H.

Nothing to do.

"Nothing to do!" in this world of ours,
Where weeds grow up with the fairest flowers,
Where smiles have only a fitful play,
Where hearts are breaking every day!

"Nothing to do!" thou Christian soul,
Wrapping thee round in thy selfish stole
Off with the garments of sloth and sin,
Christ, thy Lord, hath a kingdom to win.

"Nothing to do!" There are prayers to lay
On the altar of incense, day by day;
There are foes to meet within and without,
There is error to conquer, strong and stout.

"Nothing to do!" There are minds to teach
The simplest form of Christian speech;
There are hearts to lure with loving wile,
From the grimest haunts of sin's defile.

"Nothing to do!" There are lambs to feed,
The precious hopes of the Church's need;
Strength to be borne to the weak and faint,
Vigils to keep with the doubting saint.

"Nothing to do!" and thy Saviour said,
"Follow thou Me in the path I tread,"
Lord, lend Thy help the journey through,
Lest, faint, we cry, "So much to do!"

An Aim in Life.

If one has been spending a gay or idle or somewhat purposeless summer, and is very likely, unless otherwise resolutely determined, to spend an equally gay or idle or purposeless winter, here is such a chance as comes but once in any year, and not, it maybe, to all of us even as often as that, to come up upon the ground of this resolute purpose and say clearly and commandingly to one's self, "I have been drifting long enough. Now I intend, by God's grace, to begin living and acting. Life to me shall henceforth have an honest meaning and a consistent purpose. I may not be able to realize even my own poor ideal; but I will have an ideal and I will keep it before me. If hitherto I have been a waif—a very feather caught by every passing wind and blown as chance might indicate—I will, from this time at any rate, resolve to give my life a definite ordering, to busy myself with some sort of earnest and wholesome endeavor either for the well-being of other people or my own. This I will do, God helping me, and do it with my whole heart!"

The standard bushel of the United States contains 2150.4 cubic inches. The "Imperial bushel" is about 68 cubic inches. Any box or measure, the contents of which are equal to 2150.4 cubic inches, will hold a bushel of grain. In measuring fruit, vegetables, coal and other substances, one-fifth must be added. In other words, a peck measure five times even full makes one bushel. The usual practice is to "heap the measure."

A Simple Rule for Accurately Computing Interest at any Given per Cent. for any Length of Time.

Multiply the principal (amount of money at interest) by the time reduced to days; then divide this product by the quotient obtained by dividing 360 (the number of days in the interest year) by the per cent. of interest, and the quotient thus obtained will be the required interest.

ILLUSTRATION.

Required the interest of $462.50 for one month and eighteen days at 6 per cent.

An interest month is 30 days; one month and eighteen days equal 48 days.	SOLUTION.
$462.50 multiplied by 48 gives $222.00,00; 360 divided by 6 (the per cent. of interest) gives 60, and $222.00,00 divided by 60 will give you the exact interest, which is $3.70. If the rate of interest in the above example were 12 per cent., we would divide the $222.00,00 by 30 (because 360 divided by 12 gives 30); if 4 per cent., we would divide by 90; if 8 per cent., by 45, and in like manner for any other per cent.

HOUSEHOLD RECIPES.

OIL STAINS.—Machine oil can be removed by rubbing it with brown soap in cold water, before the whole piece is washed.

TO DESTROY ANTS.—Wrap a piece of gum camphor in cloth or paper, to keep it from dissolving, and place it in or about your cupboard or sugar, and it will drive away these pests.

HERMITS.—One cup of butter, one and half cups of brown sugar, one cup of chopped raisins, three eggs, one teaspoonful soda (dissolved in three-fourths cup of milk), all kinds spice, flour enough to roll out. Cut as cookies and bake in a quick oven.

TO FILL COLD GLASS CANS WITHOUT BREAKING.—Place in the empty can a spoon that is long enough to reach from the bottom to the top without breaking; pour in your boiling fruit; remove the spoon and seal. The can will not break.—Indiana Farmer.

HOW TO RESTORE STALE YEAST.—If you are afraid that your yeast cakes are a little stale, put one of them in a cup of warm water with a good pinch of hops; let this stand for an hour or so before using; it will have an excellent effect on the yeast, and will insure good bread.

CHILI SAUCE.—Eighteen large ripe tomatoes; two cups vinegar; one cup sugar; two tablespoons cinnamon; one tablespoon of cloves; four green peppers; four onions; one tablespoon ginger; one tablespoon salt. This is excellent. Cook tomatoes till soft, sieve them, and add the rest after chopping fine. Boil till thick; add vinegar when cold, and bottle.

SPICED FRUIT.—Take ten pounds of fruit, five pounds of sugar, one ounce of allspice, one ounce of cinnamon, one ounce of cloves, half ounce of mace. Tie the spices in a bag. Take enough vinegar to moisten the sugar; boil to a syrup; pour over the fruit hot. Let stand until the next day, when put in the spices and cook until done. This will answer alike for nearly all kinds of fruit, including melons, peaches, etc.

LADIES' CABBAGE.—Boil a firm white cabbage fifteen minutes, changing the water then for more from the boiling tea-kettle. When tender, drain, and set aside until perfectly cold. Chop fine, and add two beaten eggs, a tablespoonful of butter, pepper, salt, three tablespoonfuls rich milk or cream, stir all well together, and bake in a buttered pudding dish until brown. Serve very hot.

TOMATO CATSUP.—Take one peck ripe tomatoes, wash, cut in pieces, and boil soft without water; set one side till cool, in an earthen vessel. Strain through a coarse wire sieve; boil until the mixture is quite thick, then season to taste, adding plenty of salt, a dash of cayenne pepper, cinnamon, and cloves. Be careful of your pepper unless your family are fond of a very hot relish. When the catsup is cold, add a pint of good cider vinegar, and then bottle. It should keep, if well boiled down and seasoned, without sealing the corks.

Yesterday, To-day and Forever.YESTERDAY.

Gone, gone never to return, that which was once ours is ours no longer! It has passed through time, from eternity on one side into eternity on the other; like a meteor through space, but as it passed it recorded all the thoughts, words and actions of mankind, whether good or evil, in a volume, and when its mission was ended, placed the record upon the top of a pile of books of a similar character—the testimony of former yesterdays which are awaiting the day of Final Account.

TO-DAY.

It is here, the only portion of time to which we can lay claim; but it is swiftly passing and will soon be numbered among the lists of yesterdays—the name indiscriminately applied to all to-days that have fulfilled the mission upon which they were sent. To-day is the time in which we really live, for now events are actually transpiring; the past is gone and the faithfulness of memory is all upon which we can rely, while the future is dark and uncertain. Enjoy the present and turn it to the best advantage; never let chances of happiness slip away unimproved, for they are as golden strands woven in a web of life which diffuse light and beauty through the whole fabric, and when age has enfeebled us we will have a bright past to look upon, which will reflect its brilliancy upon our declining years, thus lighting our path to the tomb.

FOREVER.

There is contained in this word something which inspires us with profound awe, something solemn, grand inconceivable! How can we imagine a series of years merging into eternity and never ending? An impenetrable darkness envelops the future which years of patient toil have failed to dispel.

Great minds have sounded depths which at one time were deemed unfathomable. Reason and reflection have traced and brought to light many hidden laws, but before this subject—the future—the most profound minds are powerless, all is darkness and uncertainty, but Hope persistently points through the gloom to a point in the distance which seems brighter than the rest, but which we are unable to see through any other medium than the eye of Faith. At first we see it but dimly, but after gazing awhile it takes upon itself a more definite form. It is a gate—a golden gate, which opens at times to receive poor way-worn pilgrims, emitting a gloriously bright light, while the sound of heavenly music comes floating down the highway of life cheering the travelers thereon. As the eye of faith grows stronger, we perceive an inscription wrought in golden characters, which is Heaven; let this be our beacon and our watchword.

Lost time is never made good anywhere.

BUSINESS ADVICE.

Never lend money to strangers.
 Always live within your income.
 Caution is the father of security.
 He who pays beforehand is served behindhand.

Do not waste time in useless regrets over losses.

Avoid going security and making small loans.

In selecting employees be governed by their fitness.

No man can be successful who neglects his business.

Don't neglect to insure your real and personal property.

Speak well of your friends—of your enemies say nothing.

Pay your bills promptly and collect the bills due you closely.

An hour of triumph comes at last to those who watch and wait.

Be exceedingly careful in the formation of business partnerships.

Never sign a paper until you have read it and fully understand it.

Keep a sharp lookout for swindling devices. Their name is legion.

If you post your servants upon your affairs, they will one day rend you.

Do your business promptly, and bore not a business-man with long visits.

In making an investment, take care that your principal is perfectly secure.

Never fail to take a receipt for money paid, and keep copies of your letters.

Neither overrate nor underrate your capacity, but strive to estimate your powers at their just value.

Give close personal supervision to every department of your business: "the master's eyes are worth both his hands."

Beware of outside speculations. Your best chance of making money is always connected with the business you understand.

If you would win success be punctual, courteous, honest, economical, agreeable in your personal habits and regardful of your health.

In seeking a situation, remember that the right kind of men are always in demand, and that industry and capacity rarely go empty-handed.

To make good bargains, you must be well posted in regard to the market value of the articles you wish to buy or sell and their qualities and condition.

Use your credit sparingly. It may serve a useful temporary purpose, but pay-day is sure to come, and you should endeavor to be always prepared for it.

Two of Rothschild's maxims were to never buy anything that was not intrinsically worth the money paid for it, and to never have important transactions with an unlucky man.

In selecting a business, be governed to some extent by your natural tastes and abilities; but do not neglect any opportunity that affords fair advantages, unless it makes requirements that are positively repulsive.

Remember the Poor.

Ah! when ye sit by your bright, warm fire,
 Through the evenings cold and long,
 Think of the numbed and shivering poor,
 The children of want and wrong:
 And when ye gather around the board,
 Covered with viands rare,
 Remember the squalid, famishing crew,
 Who search the gutters for fare.

Think of the children who roam the streets,
 Older in crime than years;
 Think of the house that shelters them—
 Think of its woes and fears;
 And give to them as God gives you,
 For he tells us in his word,
 That what we give to the needy poor,
 Is lent unto the Lord.

Where God Is.

As God is the great Creator of the Universe, so he "fills" the whole universe with his presence. A philosopher once said to a little girl, "I will give you an orange if you will tell me where God is?" The little girl replied, "Sir, I will give you two if you tell me where God is not?" It was not a bad idea of the heathen philosopher when he spoke of God as a "sphere," whose center was everywhere, and circumference nowhere. The more ignorant of the Jews believed God to be confined to the temple, and it is evident that ancient idolaters believed God to be confined to a certain place. Hence Elijah mocked the prophets of Baal when they were praying in vain to their Gods to send fire from heaven to consume the sacrifice. "Cry aloud" said Elijah in bitter irony) for he is a God, either he is walking, or he is pursuing, or he is in a journey, or peradventure he sleepeth, and must be awakened." The Syrians fancied every god to have a particular dominion and presence in one place, and not in another; and bounded the territories of their gods, as they did those of their princes. The wiser of the Jews called God "place," whereby they denoted his immensity, every part of the world subsists by him. The wiser of the heathen, too, had an idea of the infinitude of God. Hence, one, calls God "a mind" passing through the universal nature of things; another, that he is an "infinite and immense air," another, that "it is as natural to think that God is." Hence they called God the "soul of the world," that as the soul is in every part of the body to quicken it, so God is in every part of the universe to support it.

Sympathy of Christ.

They tell us that in some trackless lands, where one friend passes through the pathless forests he breaks a twig ever and anon as he goes, that those who come after may see the traces of his having been there, and may know that they are not out of the road. Oh, when we are journeying through the murky night and the dark woods of affliction and sorrow, it is something to find here and there a spray broken or a leafy stem bent down with the tread of Christ's foot and the brush of his hand as he passed, and to remember that the path he trod he has hallowed, and that there are lingering fragrances and hidden strength in the remembrance, "in all points tempted as we are," bearing grief for us, bearing grief with us, bearing grief like us.

THE OHIO SYNOD OF THE REFORMED CHURCH IN THE UNITED STATES.

The following table, carefully prepared by Rev. Isaac H. Reiter, D. D., shows the time and place of the meetings of the Ohio Synod, together with the names of its officers, and the number of ministers, congregations, members and communicants of the Reformed Church within its bounds. As the statistics of some years, especially in the earlier history of the church, are somewhat imperfect, this table may not in every particular be entirely correct, but it is sufficiently so for all practical purposes, and will be valuable for reference. The same facts are also added in regard to the Synods of the Northwest and of the Central Synod, and of the General Synod:

EXPLANATORY NOTES.—1. The Ohio Synod, by an arrangement adopted in 1839, divided itself into three District Synods, and constituted itself a General Synod to meet every third year. Hence, as is seen, it held no meetings in 1840 and 1841; but the three District Synods, which convened annually, did meet in those years. This whole arrangement, not working satisfactorily, was abolished in 1842, and the system of dividing the synod into classes was adopted, and continued to the present time.

2. The Ohio Synod, since its organization, June 14, 1824, convened four times in special sessions, namely: At Tarkenton, O., April 18, 1850; at Tiffin, O., December 14, 1850; at Delaware, O., December 5, 1854; and at Dayton, O., November 18, 1869.

3. The official title of the Stated Clerk was that of Secretary from 1824 to 1829 inclusive, and from 1829 until 1844 that of Recording Secretary. In 1844 it was changed to that of Stated Clerk, and this form has been continued since. There was no Corresponding Secretary elected by the synod until 1829.

4. The large increase in the congregations and membership in 1838, is owing to the fact that the West Pennsylvania Classis, connected with the Synod of the Reformed Church in the United States, united in 1837 with the Ohio Synod, mainly with the view of founding a Theological Seminary in the "West."

5. The apparent discrepancy, or abrupt diminution in the particulars of ministers, congregations, members and communicants, in the years 1858, 1867, 1870, 1876, 1879 and 1882, arises from the fact that some of the classes at their own request were dismissed to unite with other Synods of the Reformed Church, namely: Clarion Classis in 1857, and Westmoreland Classis in 1869, were dismissed respectively to the Synod of St. Joseph, Indiana, Heidelberg, Erie, which had belonged to the Ohio Synod and were dismissed for this purpose: in 1875 Ursinus Classis and in 1878 St. John's Classis were dismissed at their own request to the Synod of the Northwest; and in 1881 Cincinnati Classis was dismissed to unite with the Classes of Heidelberg, Erie and St. John's (connected with the Synod of the Northwest) in the formation of the Central Synod (November 4, 1881).

6. The increase in 1874 of the ministers, congregations and members was caused in this way: In 1873 St. Joseph Classis (of the Synod of the Northwest) petitioned said synod to be divided into a German and an English classis. This request was granted, and the German division, named Zion's Classis, continued in connection with the Synod of the Northwest, and the English division, retaining the name of St. Joseph Classis, was dismissed to and received by the Ohio Synod.

7. The ministers, congregations and membership of the German Independent Synod, existing from 1846 to 1852, a period of six years, are included in these statistics.

8. All names of persons in the preceding and succeeding tables, not having Mr. prefixed, are to be regarded as ministers.

OUR APOLOGY TO MINISTERS AND SINGERS.

Last year our advertisement appeared in the Reformed Church Almanac offering FREE OF CHARGE a bottle of the celebrated Boston Cough Balm for the Throat and Lungs, to every Minister, Choir Leader and Member of Choir who would apply for it. Many applications were received from seven different States, some asking us to send the remedy by mail. We will just state that Boston Cough Balm CANNOT BE SENT BY MAIL. It must go by express, and all we ask of you is to signify your willingness to pay expressage on the remedy, and we will cheerfully send to each applicant at least 50 cents worth of it FREE OF CHARGE, or enough to cover express charges. We do this in order to introduce this pleasant and effective remedy. Public speakers and singers recommend Boston Cough Balm as the most effective remedy for the Throat and Lungs they ever found. It acts directly upon the Throat and Bronchial Tubes, allaying irritation, removing all phlegm, and rendering the voice Clear and Distinct. It is pleasant, safe and reliable. Try it, Free.
